

The worldwide renowned jewellery company FREYWILLE stands for artistically designed enamel jewellery with 50 boutiques in over 20 countries on four continents. For our artistic studio in Vienna we are looking for an

ARTIST / DESIGNER FOR FIRE-ENAMEL ARTWORK (JEWELLERY INDUSTRY)

Time-based contract

The handcrafted fire-enamel elements incorporated within the jewellery pieces are the company's USP and core artistic elements that grant everlasting colour and shine. We are now looking to develop several new artistic enamel designs for upcoming collections.

AREAS OF RESPONSIBILITY

- From idea to design: You create drafts for new fire-enamel designs based on our artistic guidelines. The starting point for new designs may vary from artist interpretation to free topics such as flora & fauna, travel & cultures, or the world of philosophy.
- From moodboard to final implementation of the designs: You transfer your artistic ideas onto wearable collections full of colour and radiance.

YOUR PROFILE

- Academically trained in fine art, design or graphics (or similar)
- Perfect painting and illustration techniques to get your ideas onto paper: they form the basis for the handcrafted fire-enamel artwork
- Highly creative personality that loves to take on the challenge to design and develop fire-enamel designs that are commercially successful
- Ability to identify with our jewellery and craftsmanship

You can look forward to an interesting and creative position within an artistic environment. This position is advertised as a time-based contract and is limited to the development of a collection.

Please send your application, including the following attachments, to jobs@freywille.com

- Curriculum Vitae
- Letter of Motivation
- Portfolio of your artistic graphic work

Please understand that applications without the above information cannot be considered for this position.
